DEFEAT OF THE BIBLE BILL IS PREDICTED

PROFITS AND NOT PROPHETS ARE BACKING THE MEASURE

Ku Klux Klan the National Reform Association and the Council of Churches Have Been Made "Cats-paws" by Text Book Publishers so it is Alleged.

Evidence that all of the interest behind the Buchanan Bible bill, to compel reading of the scriptures in the public schools, is not of a religious nature developed this week.

Are Only Catspaws.

Charges that the K Klux Klan, the National Reform association and the Ohio Council of Churches had been made "catspaws" for interests more concerned with profits than with prophets, were being made.

The trail was bared when it became known Wednesday that several book publishing concerns are on the ground with arguments in favor of the bill that they have made preparations to cash in on the book business that might be opened up if it becomes a law.

The preparations they have made indicate these publishers were not surprised by the appearance of the measure. Books designed to take advantage of a mandatory Bible reading law have been issued by several of the larger school book publishing companies, and some of them have been offered to the state department of education for consideration.

While several of these are not such as to be useful under the proposed Ohio statute, others obviously are designed to be of value only in a state where such a law is in force.

None has received approval of the Ohio department of education but several have been received by it and filed there.

Among these are books issued by the McMillan Co., and Sanborn & Co., both text book publishers, copies of which have been offered to the state department since the Bible bill was introduced.

Blocked by the Rules Committee of the Ohio Senate, which has refused to advance the Buchanan Bible reading bill to the preferential calendar, Ku Klux Klansmen gathered forces Wednesday for a desperate attack on the floor of the senate today.

It is realized now by the Klan that the only hope is an open attack.

Republican members who were desirous a few days ago of placing the bill before Governor A. V. Donahey, have concluded that he would veto it and that the discredit would fall upon the Ohio General Assembly.

For this reason the decision has been reached to hold the bill in the Rules committee as a party policy.

The Bible bill never has had more than three votes out of a committee of eight. To suspend the rules and take it up out of order requires 24 votes out of 35.

Klan Beaten, Is Belief.

Opponents were jubilant Wednesday night asserting that Klan forces cannot command votes necessary and said the bill is grappled in a death embrace.

GLENN ROBIN POSTOFFICE BURGLARIZED

Dry Agent Discovers Bandits at Work and is Shot—Notified Sheriff.

Steubenville, O., March 26 (UP).—Posses today laid siege to the Bretell coal mine near Mingo where four post-office bandits took refuge after wounding Joseph Boom, a dry agent.

Thinking the bandits were rum runners Boom halted their flight from Glen Bolin where they had looted the postoffice. A gun battle followed and Boom was wounded.

The bandit car carried a Pennsylvania license, No. 686026.

One of the dry agent's shots pierced the gasoline tank of the bandit car. Another went thru the windshield and may have hit the driver.

Boom crawled to a farmhouse and called William T. Allison, sheriff.

Allison and his deputies found the bullet riddled automobile abandoned a short distance from the scene of the shooting. They recovered $1,000 worth of loot which had been taken from the postoffice.

The four robbers were sighted near the Bretell mine mouth and the posse immediately surrounded it.

The alleged bandits car is listed under the name of Wm. D. Irwin, of 7751 Baxter street, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

RURAL OHIO MORE HEALTHY THAN CITIES

Reports Shows That Rural Life is Healthier Than Living in Cities.

Rural Ohio can't claim complete superiority over the cities in freedom from disease, a study of health department figures for Ohio during 1923 and 1924 discloses.

Records of 24 diseases reported to the Ohio department of health show that in both 1923 and 1924 rural Ohio had a higher morbidity rate than urban Ohio in 7 of the 24 diseases. In addition morbidity rate was higher in five other diseases during one of the two years, according to this study made by Phillip G. Beck, graduate student, working with C. E. Lively, professor of rural sociology at the Ohio State university.

Rural Ohio during 1924 had 194 cases of influenza per 100,000 of population and sixty-one cases in the cities. Similarly more cases of measles, poliomyelitis, scarlet fever, smallpox, typhoid fever and diphtheria and enteritis were recorded per 100,000 of population in rural Ohio than in urban Ohio during 1923 and 1924.

In one of the two years, but not both, the country's morbidity rate was higher than the city's for malaria, German measles, paratyphoid, tuberculosis, whooping cough and trachoma.

The sociologists point out, further, that the rural disease records are probably not as complete as those of the city. All the rural cases, they suggest, were probably not reported to the health officials.

H. A. DYKEMAN DRY AGENT HAS RESIGNED

Washington, March 26 (UP).—John Harper, federal dry agent in the Cleveland office, has been named acting divisional chief to succeed Henry A. Dykeman, resigned.

Appointment of a permanent divisional chief is expected to await the outcome of the indictment of J. E. Russell, federal prohibition director for Ohio, who is under suspension pending trial.

James A. White, former superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League in Ohio, is said to have been offered the position of federal prohibition director for the state. He is favored by United States Commissioner Roy Haynes but is understood to be hesitating due to insufficient salary.

NOW IT'S THE "WATCHMAN."

With today's issue of the Democrat & Watchman the first name of its title The Democrat, has been dropped and the paper returns to its original name. Back in 1837 when the paper was started it was called the Scioto Watchman. Later it was known as the Circleville Watchman. In 1844 it was known as the Democrat Guardian and later as the Pickaway and Fayette Pilot. In 1845, Jason Case, its editor restored its former name, The Watchman. In 1862, the paper was suppressed by the U. S. government for its southern leanings and in 1879 the name of the Circleville Democrat and Watchman reappeared and now it goes back to its former name.

Real "Dogs of War"

The saying, "Let loose the dogs of war," once had a meaning. In the Middle Ages dogs were sent out toward the cavalry of the enemy with kettles of burning resin on their backs, the odor, smoke and flame of which naturally excited the horses. A stout jacket of leather underneath the kettle protected the dogs in case the hot resin was spilled.

Sunday School Lesson

(By REV. B. FITZWATER, D.D., Dean of the Evening School, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)
(©. 1925, Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for March 29

CLOSING PERIOD OF CHRIST'S MINISTRY—REVIEW

DEVOTIONAL READING—Rev. 1:9-18.
GOLDEN TEXT—"Jesus Christ the same yesterday, and today and forever."—Heb. 13:8.

PRIMARY TOPIC—How Friends Cared for Jesus and Paul.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Helping the Missionaries by Our Gifts.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Living Lessons From the Quarter.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Closing Scenes in Christ's Life.

The lessons of the quarter have been so rich and full that perhaps the best method of review will be to summarize the outstanding teachings of the quarter. The following suggestions are offered:

Lesson I—The so-called triumphal entry was the official presentation of Jesus of Nazareth to the Jewish nation as their Messiah. He was the predicted king coming in the name of the Lord (Psa. 118:26).

Lesson II—Coming judgment is absolutely certain. The judgment portrayed in this lesson is that of the nations living on the earth when Jesus comes. The judgment pronounced—reward or doom—will be on the ground of the attitude of the nations towards Jesus as expressed in their treatment of His brethren, the Jews.

Lesson III—Before Jesus went to the cross He instituted a memorial of His broken body and shed blood. This should be gratefully and strictly observed by believers until Christ come again.

Lesson IV—Many are the trials through which the believer must pass as he goes through this life. The sure cure for "heart trouble" is the assurance that Jesus has gone to prepare a place in His Father's house, and will come again and receive His disciples to Himself.

Lesson V—Jesus is the true vine and believers are the branches. Abiding in Him will result in fruitfulness, success in prayer, fellowship in the love-life of God, fullness of joy and love-life like that of God.

Lesson VI—It is not the purpose of God that Christians should be taken out of the world at once when they believe on Christ because the world needs their influence and testimony. Christ needs them as His representatives and they need the trials of the world to strengthen the grace of God in their hearts. Those whom God has given to Christ are eternally secure even though they must pass through great trials.

Lesson VII—The agony of Gethsemane was due to the fact that Jesus was bearing the burden of the sins of the world.

Lesson VIII—The heart of this lesson is that Christians should be obedient to civil authority because human government has been ordained of God. The more loyal the believer is to Jesus Christ, the more loyal he will be to rightly constituted authority (This lesson has no logical connection with the others of the quarter and should be omitted where time is limited).

Lesson IX—Jesus Christ gave clear proof that He was the Messiah promised in the Scriptures, but the wicked nation rejected Him and chose a murderer instead. Both Pilate and the nation went down under the guilt of the rejection of Christ.

Lesson X—Christ on the cross is the supreme expression of unselfish love, a revelation of the moral nature of the world, and stands as an exhibition of a cross section of the world in any generation.

Lesson XI—Christ's resurrection is an absolute certainty. This unquestioned fact certifies that He is the divine Son through whom we get eternal life.

Lesson XII—The various appearances of Jesus Christ after His burial demonstrate the reality of His resurrection, confirm the truthfulness of the Scriptures and reveal Him as not only the supreme and grand center of the Scriptures, but the supreme interpreter of them.

Goodness Outshines Genius

Man is created for virtue. It is his supreme endowment coupled with his capacity for affiance in God. Ever and anon a trumpet sounds. From the hidden battlements of Eternity, summoning him to noble living. If he refuses to obey the summons he sinks in the scale of being. He surrenders manhood to accept animalism. The degree in which a man is striving after virtue and obedient to the law of duty determines his real value. "Goodness," says Emerson, "outshines genius, as the sun makes the electric light cast a shadow."—Rev. R. P. Downes, LL. D.

THE NEW SOUTH

About six years ago the commission on inter-racial co-operation was formed in the South, its logical starting point. It consisted of an equal number of leaders from the white race and the negroes. It has given consideration to grievances or injustices springing out of inter-racial relations.

Recent reports indicate that this form of co-operation is spreading in the South. Joint committees of the two races have been set up in some 800 Southern counties, covering several states. It is believed that they had an important influence in bringing about a notable reduction in lynchings the past year.

This is but one of several indications that a new South in developing. When the citizens of Enterprise, Ala., not long ago erected a monument to the boll-weevil because it had forced diversified agriculture upon them they gave token of the same fact.

For many years after the Civil war the South made such slow progress that it seemed to be standing still. Of late, at any rate, it has not stood still, but has made steady gains in economic stability, in civic spirit and in education.

In 1923, for example, the value of its farm products reached the impressive total of $6,250,000,000. Its tobacco crop in 1910 was worth $80,000,000, but by 1923 it had risen to $241,000,000.

There are 15 agricultural colleges in the South and her universities are prospering and are being liberally endowed. Observers claim that no section of the country has developed so rapidly the last 20 years as the South. In economic resources it is astoundingly rich, while industrially and educationally it is being reborn. One of the best features of this movement is the manifestation of a new spirit growing up between the races there. Methods of forbearance and kindness between the races in the South are of community application, and they now give promise of carrying it farther in the line of progress than outside interference could.—Minneapolis Journal.

The time is passed when the measure of the value of a memorial is quantity. I hope the time has come when that measure is quality. I care not whether the material be marble or granite, its future will be measured by the character of the design. It is quality that has preserved for us the finest examples in painting and sculpture. It is quality that will stamp our imprint upon cemeteries of the future. Simplicity, correct lines and proportions and proper ornamentation are the real fundamentals. A design that is right, material that is lasting, and perfect workmanship, spells success for the future of this industry and the beautification of the cemetery. Will you let me help you select the memorial for your lot. Call at show room. NO AGENTS.

DARBYVILLE

PROGRAM

W. C. T. U. Gives Good Entertainment at Meeting
March 12.

The Darbyville W. C. T. U. met at the home of the president, Mrs. Wilda Carpenter, Wednesday, March 11. Solo "Onward Temperance Soldiers" by Miss Urana Schene. Scripture, Mark 12, by Mrs. Pauline Flowers; prayer by Mrs. Hattie McKinley; song "The King's Command," letter read from Mrs. Lucy B. Price by the secretary, paper "Conquerors" was read by Mrs. Hattie McKinley, written by Mary Harris Armor. The Christian life is like an aeroplane. You can't stay up unless you go on. Never a mightier moral combat was won than prohibition but the victory did not end the warfare against the drink demon. Success is as sure as the promises of God. Thus by the grace of God and the power of religious manhood and womanhood prohibition is in our constitution. Second, the value of the law prohibition has promoted public health, public happiness and industrial efficiency. We must know third our individual responsibility for the enforcement of the law. We say "they" instead of earnestly inquiring "Lord God, what will Thou have me to do? The right suffer more loss thru a lack of sense of individual responsibility on the part of good people not realizing their own ability under God.

Paper, The Widow's Mite, or What Shall I Render and How? was read by Mrs. Christena Hill. In the time of Jesus, worship had become simply ritual. The gifts for the temple were simply to be seen of men. Jesus lingered there for some evidence of the Divine spark struck from the anvil of human heart. Finally comes reverently threading her way, a woman with a saddened face, but glory shining eyes for she knows her Redeemer lives. She has only a little to give, the result of than a penny, she wishes that it were her day's work, her two mites, less than a penny. She wishes it was more. It was like balm to the Savior's spirit.

First, He asks, My child give, Me thine heart; second; He asks us to give as unto God, not as men please; third, He asks to give joy fully; fourth He asks to give bountifully; fifth, He asks to give intelligently; sixth, place Christ at the center of all our wants and let the universe of our little lives revolve about Him; seventh, Let us give regularly and systematically; paper "Prayer" by Mrs. Adaline Robey. The Importance of Prayer as evidenced by the Practice of Christ.

Prayer was more important than rest, Mark 1:35; prayer was more important than teaching and healing, Luke 5:15-16; prayer was more important working of miracles, Luke 22:32; prayer was more important than sleep, Luke 1:6-12.

Prayer was more important in securing workers than either money or machinery, Matt 9:28; prayer was more important to be taught than preaching Matt 6:5-15; The earthly ministry of our Lord was begun in prayer Luke 3:21; continued in prayer and ended in prayer Luke 23:36; and all things whatsoever you ask in prayer believing ye shall receive Matt 21:22.

Paper, Noontide Hour of Prayer, by Elizabeth Gordon, was read by Mrs. Bernice Glader.

It is always noontide somewhere And across the awaking continents From shore to shore, somewhere Our prayers are arising evermore

Each White Ribboner who faithfully observes the noontide hour of prayer will greatly enhance the pace, push and power of our peerless organization. Pray for all our W. C. T. U. missionaries at home and abroad. Pray intelligently; pray for young people; pray for world peace and world prohibition; pray for enforcement of the Eighteenth amendment to the constitution of United States; pray and work for a large increase in membership. Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Pauline Flowers.

Is Ancient Proverb

It is true that the expression "Hell is paved with good intentions" appears in Boswell's "Life of Johnson" as coming from that scholar. But it was a proverb in Germany centuries before the time of Samuel Johnson. Weather and Health

Doctors are realizing more and more that changes of weather cause changes in the human body. They say that sunshine and rain, cold and heat, are important factors in our health. The study of the relations between health and weather has become a new science, which is called "climatology."

AMUSEMENTS

Bebe Daniels comes to the Met theater tonight as the star of the Paramount picture, "Miss Bluebeard," directed by Frank Tuttle—a picturization of the Broadway stage play, "Little Miss Bluebeard" by Aver Hopwood.

The screen play by Townsend Martin, deals with a series of matrimonial adventures and gives Miss Daniels a fine opportunity to display her talents as a comedienne.

Bebe's role in the picture is one of a French actress. She goes to London on a holiday and, thru a series of most amusing incidents enroute, she arrives there the wife of two men.

This piquant situation and the complications that follow are said to provide the volatile Bebe with an excellent opportunity for her comedy talents. The fun, while at all times clean and wholesome, is declared to be practically continuous. The stage play made from the same story in which Irene Bordoni starred, scored a big success both on Broadway and on the road, auguring well for the picture.

Playing in support of Bebe in "Miss Bluebeard" are Raymond Griffith, one of the screen's foremost character comedians; Robert Frazer, leading man; Kenneth MacKenna and others.

NINETY-NINE YEAR LEASES PERPETUAL

Ohio Supreme Court Holds That 99 Year Leases are Renewable Forever.

Columbus, March 25.—Ninety-nine year leases on real estate, renewable forever, were held to be freehold estates subject to the laws of descent of real property, by the state supreme court yesterday in valuable downtown property in Columbus.

The decision affecting almost $1,000,000,000 worth of real estate in Ohio now held under such leases, was rendered in the case brought by the Ralston Steel Car Co., Columbus, against Annie M. Ralston, widow of Joseph S. Ralston, former president of the company. The company questioned the widow's right to a dower interest in a 99-year lease held by her husband at the time of his death on valuable downtown property in the city of Columbus.

The decision of the supreme court is considered by attorneys as one of the most important decisions affecting real estate in a generation. It is declared to be the last link in a long chain of court decisions and statutes putting perpetual leases on the same basis with fee simple estates.

At common law, leases were considered chattels or personal property, not subject to dower interests. The decision is said to upset former court decisions which held that definite leaseholds are chattels not subject to dower estates.

Gradually, under Ohio law, permanent leaseholds have been given the character of real property. One section holds that permanent leaseholds, renewable forever, shall be subject to the same law of descent as estates in fee.

By another act the owner of a leasehold was considered the real owner in matters of assessment. Next, it was provided that permanent leaseholds could be executed and conveyed only as real property, by written instrument, duly acknowledged and duly recorded.

In the next step, leaseholds were taxed as real property in the name of the lessee, and not in the name of the owner of the fee. Again, leaseholds were made subject to levy, execution and sale, the same as real property. Permanent leaseholds were, therefore, gradually made inheritable, transferrable, taxable, assessable and sold on execution the same as real property.

The decision yesterday is said to forge the last link by holding such perpetual leaseholds are subject to a widow or widower's dower, the same as simple estates.

By virtue of the court's decision, Mrs. Ralston gets $9,685.58 as her dower interest in the leasehold in question, which had been sold with her consent by the probate court for $49,000 and interest, which brings the total of her award to $11,076.

The probate court, when her right to a dower interest in the proceeds from the sale of the lease was questioned by the Ralston Steel Car Co., held that she was entitled to her dower interest. The common pleas court reversed and held that she was not entitled to her dower in the leasehold. The court of appeals reversed the common pleas court and affirmed the probate court. The supreme court now affirms the court of appeals and the probate court.

"What is her home like?"

It's a question women ask of each other at the club, at the theater, at the luncheon.

"Oh, so---so," with the faintest shrug of the shoulders.

Or perhaps, "Why, nice enough,"---with just a little hesitation, "er---nothing unusual, though."

But, sometimes, the reply is:

"Simply beautiful. Not elaborate, but such good taste."

How much it means socially, a beautiful home.

How much it counts, that impression the guests carries away.

What a world of difference between the ordinary, and the home with a tone of distinction.

FIRE BUGS AT WORK IN CAMP SHERMAN

Chillicothe is experiencing a case of firebugs. Sunday evening two barracks that were of the last built and which had never been occupied by soldiers, were fired in the north end of the camp and while the fire fighters of the Camp were busy with these, another fire was discovered in the southern section of the camp, compelling the authorities to ask assistance from the city department.

Last night the Buckeye Theatre was fired and the whole city plunged into darkness when the high tension power lines of the O. U. T. Co., which pass through the camp from Columbus, were burned.

An investigation is under way as it is supposed that some members from the hospital are responsible.

SIXTH INTERNATIONAL

Neo-Malthusian and Birth Control Conference Will Convene In New York Tomorrow.

New York, March 25.—With eminent physicians, eugenists, economists, and sociologists largely predominating among the delegates and speakers, the Sixth International Neo-Malthusian and Birth Control Conference will convene at the Hotel McAlpin in this city tomorrow morning. Police interference which broke up the public meeting in the Town Hall during the First American Birth Control Conference in November, 1921, is not expected to figure in the present conference, according to Margaret Sanger, president of the American Birth Control League, who declares that the movement has definitely emerged from the atmosphere of "radicalism" which characterized its early days. Among the foreign delegates, representing England, France, Germany, Austria, Sweden, Holland, Russia, Japan and Mexico, are many names distinguished in the sciences and in public affairs.

"The movement dates its beginnings in this country from the publication in 1825 of Robert Owen's 'Moral Physiology,'" said Mrs. Sanger. "So America has now had a hundred years of birth control agitation. Yet we are today the only country in the world except post-war France where the dissemination of birth control information is illegal. Nevertheless, the whole complexion of the situation has changed in recent years. And it is the women who have changed it—the millions of sick and impoverished mothers who are demanding that their physicians furnish them with information that will enable them to have no more children than they are physically able to bear or financially able to support."

"In the end, probably, it will be the enlightened physicians, backed by an informed and aroused public opinion who will end the present disgraceful situation which in this country still denies legal endorsement and public aid to the most important social movement of modern times."

Havelock Ellis's paper on "Eugenics and Birth Control" is expected to be the feature of the Thursday morning session. Harold Cox, editor of the Edinburgh Review, will argue for "A Union of Low Birth Rate Nations." And Dr. Louis L. Dublin, of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, will represent the opposition with a paper on "The Excesses of Birth Control."

Others scheduled to address the Conference, which will continue throughout the week, are Rabbi Stephen Wise, John Haynes Holmes, Dr. A. A. Brill, Dr. S. Adolphus Knopf and the Countess Catherine Karolyi, wife of the ex-premier of Hungary.

Sam H. Harris will present Irving Berlin's third annual Music Box Revue at the Hartman theater. Columbus, Monday night, March 23, for a week's engagement with Wednesday and Saturday matinees. The Music Box Revue has proved its worth these three years and is an established institution and a marked favorite with theater goers. All last year the new revue was presented to crowded houses at the Music Box theater in New York and, of course, the elaborate production with its intricate under stage and over-stage effects and its exquisitely beautiful scenery and costumes, will be shown here just as it was in New York. Beautiful as it is to the eye, it is also true that in the way of fun music and girls nothing in theatrical presentation compares with the Music Box Revue. In New York the third annual revue with the music and lyrics by Irving Berlin and staged by Hassard Short was considered far and away the best of the three, and the cast the finest ever assembled in a revue. Here are some of the principals in the company of one hundred: Florence Moore, John Steel, Joseph Santley, Ivy Sawyer, Johnny Burle, Solly Ward, Florence O'Donnishawn, Hugh Cameron, Phil Baker, Ruth Thomas, Nelson Snow, Charles Columbus Dorothy Dilley and three Wainwright sisters, Bepa, Vista, Eric Titus and Helen Rich. There will be a special augmented orchestra for the local engagement of the Music Box Revue. Mail orders now.

SOUTHERN OHIO SELECTED CORN REPORTS SHOW

Is Best in Actual Viability
Corn Dried in Houses
Average 98 Percent

Reports on seed corn germination tests made by teachers of vocational agriculture in all parts of the state, show that in northern Ohio only about 65 to 70 per cent of the kernels are sprouting, or from 5 to 10 per cent lower than the estimate previously announced by farm crops men at Ohio State university.

"Since the first of the year Smith-Hughes teachers thruout Ohio have been making seed corn tests for farmers in their communities," explains J. S. Vutler, extension specialist at the university. "As soon as tests are completed these agricultural teachers send to this office a complete report of their work."

"Six counties in the extreme northwest have fair corn, but most of the northern part of the state has poor corn. Field elected corn dried in the house is testing as high as 92 per cent but field selected corn left in piles or in crates where it had less chance to dry thoroly before freezing weather is testing as low as 80 per cent while crib corn averages 63 per cent and shock corn 53 per cent and lower."

"In southern Ohio field selected corn dried in the house is averaging 98 per cent and where it was strung up or raked it averages near 88 per cent. crib and shock corn is averaging as high as 80 per cent but since the range is from 20 to 95 per cent, some of this type is as bad as or worse than the same type in the northern part of the state."

"Tests of old corn thruout the state are averaging from 63 to 70 per cent."
